What does the Lion Royalty Homecoming Court represent to you? What characteristics do you possess that make you an ideal candidate for the Court?

To me, the Lion Royalty Homecoming Court represents the highest caliber of TCNJ students. It represents students who have been able to embody all of TCNJ's core values through dedicated service to the community and scholarly achievement. It represents students who serve their community with a true desire to help others and make TCNJ the absolute best place that it can be. I believe that I am a candidate who matches this criteria, as I exemplify diligence, service, and most importantly a desire to help give other students the best possible experience through my leadership positions. I exemplify diligence through my strong academic performance at TCNJ, while maintaining extracurricular activities. I have maintained a high grade point average, excelled in my internships, and been given numerous research opportunities. I have displayed this diligence while balancing a myriad of extracurricular activities in every facet of the TCNJ community. I am a part of Greek Life on campus where I serve as Scholarship Chair of my organization. I advocate for students as Vice President for Finance in Student Government. I showcase my love of performing in my A Cappella group and work to create a great environment for my peers as the President. I showcase my love for TCNJ as an Ambassador and Orientation Leader. All of these involvements I believe showcase my service to the TCNJ community and desire to make a difference on this campus, making me an ideal candidate for the court.

What is your favorite thing about TCNJ and why?

My favorite thing about TCNJ is how it allows for students to create their own college experience in a way that allows them to learn, do what they love, and grow. This all goes back to the wonderful community of students. Students work with each other to create the best possible experience for everyone. Students work to create welcoming organizations of people with similar interests. Throughout my time at TCNJ, I have been able to get involved in every corner of the campus which has allowed me to grow both for my career prospects but also to allow me to do what I love. I spent my high school years doing theater and choir and at TCNJ, I was able to join an A Cappella group with people who love to sing just like me and who do not have aspirations to make music a career. I was able to join Student Government where I learned valuable leadership skills that can help me when working in the real government one day. I was able to join Greek Life, become an Ambassador, and become an Orientation Leader which allowed me to further jump out of my comfort zone. TCNJ allows students to do more than what they study. The community of faculty, staff, and students push one another to be the best versions of themselves and to simply have fun and do what you love in college. I will forever be grateful for a college experience that has allowed me to do what I love and learn a lot along the way, as I do not believe this experience can be had at every school.
